

Dr. Dorothy B. Gandy received a Bachelor of Arts degree at Johnson C. Smith University, both Master's and ED.S. degrees from South Carolina State University, and the Ed.D. from Argosy University. She served as an educator in various capacities, including teacher, principal, assistant professor, coordinator, and director at secondary and post secondary levels. She has a passion for training and mentoring and believes that everyone has a contribution to make in helping make the world a better place. She is founder and Executive Director of WRAW and founder and CEO of GALS, Inc. (Growth and Leadership Skills). She has served on various community, school, and church projects. Dr. Gandy is the published author of three books—An Eight Piece Guide to Peace, Caught in the Middle, and 200 Ways to Look, Feel, and Be Your Best. She is also a certified professional life coach. Dr. Gandy enjoys exercising, traveling, shopping, entertaining, and having fun with family and friends. Her message to everyone is to “continuously invest in yourself so that you will be in a better position to help others”. She is married, and together, she and her husband have four children.